

DR. MURPHY, EMINENT SURGEON, IS DEAD

Chicagoan Expires Suddenly at Hotel at Mackinac Island, Mich.

HEART ATTACK CAUSE

Body is Sent to Chicago and is Expected to Arrive There This Morning

KNIGHTED BY POPE BENEDICT

MACKINAC ISLAND, Mich., Aug. 11.—Dr. John B. Murphy of Chicago, one of the world's most renowned surgeons died today suddenly at a hotel while on a summer outing. An attack of heart disease was the immediate cause of death.

Dr. Murphy had been in poor health for several months and some had ascribed his condition to the poisoned soup partaken at the banquet given to Archbishop Mundelein at the University Club, Chicago, last winter. His wife was with him at the time of death. The famous surgeon, who recently was knighted by Pope Benedict for his researches in surgery, was only 58 years old. He had been active for many years, having made many advances in the treatment of puzzling diseases.

His pioneer surgery in cases of appendicitis, later in the treatment of other intestinal disorders and more recently in the serum neutralization of rheumatic and other joint troubles had made him known all over the world.

Dr. Murphy had been indisposed since last February. He had been overworked during the winter and finally developed aortitis, which extended to the pancreas. When hot weather struck Chicago, several weeks ago, Dr. Murphy and his wife, who is a society leader in Chicago, went to the Chicago Golf club and lived. As the heat became more extreme the surgeon grew worse and decided to go to the cooler climate of northern Michigan.

Yesterday he grew worse and a state of partial coma followed. He remained in a precarious condition until an acute attack of heart disease seized him today about 3 o'clock. He died in a few minutes. The body will be sent to Chicago tonight, arriving there tomorrow, it is planned.

Not Due to Effects of Poison.

CHICAGO, Aug. 11.—Dr. John B. Murphy was the third prominent Chicagoan to die of several hundred who ate poisoned soup at the banquet to Archbishop Mundelein last winter at the University Club. Physicians have said that these deaths were not due to the after effects of the poison put in the soup, it is said, by Jean Cronen, a cook at the club. These medical experts said it was merely coincident that Andrew J. Graham, a banker and politician, and Judge Richard E. Burke had failed in health from the time of the banquet and finally died, while other partakers of the soup had been in feeble health since the dinner.

Dr. Murphy apparently was not even made ill at the time of the Mundelein banquet, and his nephew, Dr. John F. Golden said Dr. Murphy's ailment had been specifically diagnosed as heart disease in which there was inflammation of the aorta, extending to the pancreas.

Mr. Murphy was popular among all who knew him for his incisive judgment in diagnosis, his philanthropy to poor patients and his wit. On receiving the order of knighthood from the pope, Dr. Murphy was said to have remarked:

"Now I have the same title at both ends of my name, 'Sir John Murphy, Surgeon.'"

President of the American Medical association in 1913, elected the same year to be president of the Clinical Congress of Surgeons of America, John Benjamin Murphy had received the most distinguished honors that could be accorded a surgeon in this country. He was acknowledged as one of the foremost operators of his time. His clinic at the Mercy Hospital in Chicago was a mecca for surgeons all over the world.

He was born in Appleton Wis., Dec. 21st, 1857. He was educated in the public schools, the University of Illinois, Rush Medical College of Chicago, and in Germany. Half a column might be filled with the titles and honors he gained.

Dr. Murphy may be called the founder of the present system of intestinal surgery. It was the "Murphy button," a metal capsule for uniting the severed intestines, that brought the inventor into prominence. The button made it easy for any moderately skilled practitioner to perform the "impossible" operation of uniting a severed intestine.

Dr. Murphy had no speciality although of recent years he was best

WHETHER MEN WILL MAKE GOOD THEIR THREAT MAY BE KNOWN TODAY

Only Hope of Peaceful Settlement Rests on Possibility That Employees May Be Induced to Accept a New Form of Arbitration.

New York, Aug. 11.—Whether the leaders of 400,000 employees of the railroads of the country will make good their threat of a general strike unless their demands for an eight hour day and time and a half for overtime are granted by the managers of 225 railroad systems, probably will be known tomorrow, it was learned here tonight from an authoritative source.

The only hope of a peaceful settlement apparently rested on the possibility that the men might be induced to accept a new form of arbitration. Their chief objection to arbitration has been lack of representation upon any of the boards provided under existing statutes.

The principal feature of the new plan is said to be the formation of a board of arbitration that will give each of the four brotherhoods a representative on the board while the arbitrators of the railroads will be increased to an equal number with four neutral arbitrators, making a total membership of twelve.

What is your attitude towards arbitration? Grand Chief Warren S. Stone of the Brotherhood of Locomotive engineers was asked tonight.

"Concessions by both sides," he replied.

"When a dispute goes to arbitration the men never get as much as they start out after. In former years the men always were anxious for arbitration, now it is the railroads that consider arbitration the panacea for industrial upheaval."

One of the most important factors in the situation is in the hands of the switchmen, Mr. Stone said. Nearly all western freight, he pointed out, passes thru a narrow neck of tracks in Chicago, where "laying down" of switchmen would block trains for a hundred miles.

Will Go To Washington Probably Monday to Confer With Wilson and Lansing—Refuses to Discuss War.

New York, Aug. 11.—Walter Hines Page, United States ambassador to Great Britain, accompanied by Mrs. Page arrived here tonight from Liverpool on board the American Line Steamship Philadelphia.

Ambassador Page said he would go to Washington, probably Monday to confer with President Wilson and Secretary Lansing.

He refused to discuss the war or the British blacklist against American merchants. Other passengers were Thomas Hughes Kelly, president of the Irish relief fund; Joseph Smith, his secretary, and Mrs. Kelly, who went to England on the Philadelphia but were not permitted to land there by the British authorities. They were on their way to Ireland when detained. Mr. Kelly took over approximately $50,000 contributed in this country for the relief of sufferers from the recent Irish uprising. This fund was sent on to Ireland.

SEABURY CHOICE OF UNOFFICIAL DEMOCRATIC STATE CONFERENCE

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., Aug. 11.—Samuel Seabury of New York, judge of the court of appeals, was the expressed choice of the unofficial Democratic state conference for nomination for governor tonight.

Senator Robert F. Wagner, of New York, chairman of the resolutions committee submitted the platform. It was devoted to an arraignment of Governor Whitman's administration. The platform endorsed unqualifiedly the administration of President Wilson.

In regard to woman suffrage the platform said:

"We hold that the question of conferring the right of suffrage upon men and women should remain exclusively a question to be determined by the people of the states * * * and we again recommend that the question of suffrage to women be submitted in 1917."

known to the lay public for his work in joint surgery. He was the pioneer in appendicitis and credited with performing one of the first, if not the first, of appendectomies. He was the first man to make an artificial joint out of natural tissue. He was one of the first to transplant bone in one body or from one body to another. He was the first to excise portions of the lung.

A comfortable fortune is left to Dr. Murphy's family. His wealth, it was said, was amassed chiefly thru his taking advice from grateful patients regarding investments.

Dr. Murphy himself, according to his colleagues, did not have "enough commercial intelligence to swap jack knives." He was married in 1885 to Miss Jeanette C. Plamondon, a member of a well known Chicago family.

At the request of Sir Arbuthnot Lane, head of the British army medical corps, Dr. Murphy organized an American hospital unit, which served with the British corps in France last year.

HUGHES ADVOCATES PROTECTIVE TARIFF

ADOPTS DEMOCRATIC SLOGAN OF 1912 CAMPAIGN 'PITILESS PUBLICITY'

Nominee Assails Administration for Having Changed Its Tariff Views—Repeats Previous Attacks on Course of Administration Toward Mexico.

Billings, Mont., Aug. 11.—Charles E. Hughes, addressing a chautauqua audience in a big tent on the village square here tonight, prefaced his advocacy of a protective tariff with the declaration that if he should be elected president, nothing would be "pulled off" for private benefit at the public expense if he could prevent it.

Mr. Hughes also adopted a Democratic slogan of 1912 campaign, "pitiless publicity."

"I want pitiless publicity with respect to the pork barrel," he said. "I want pitiless publicity with respect to the sectionalism of this administration. I want pitiless publicity with respect to the extravagance and wastefulness of this administration. I want pitiless publicity with respect to the incompetence of appointees of this administration. Let us see that we have America first in the hearts of every American, of whatever race or creed, and also, America equal to her tasks—America efficient."

Mr. Hughes assailed the administration for having changed its tariff views since 1912 and repeated his declaration in favor of a protective tariff.

"I desire to see a proper attitude toward business in this country," he continued. "I have done my share in attempting to correct abuses, and if I am elected there will be nothing pulled off for private benefit at the public expense if I know it and can prevent it."

"I have not left the career of my choice to play politics for anybody. I am here simply because I believe I have been summoned to serve the American people—at least to give them a chance to choose for me such service as they desire."

"If I am chosen I propose to devote whatever ability I possess to have things done right in this country for the interest of the people, and I shall not prostitute the offices of the United States for partisan rewards of incompetent persons."

"I have had something to do with cutting out abuses but I believe that in this country we must be strong enough and able enough to prevent abuses to prevent unjust discrimination to prevent monopolistic practices, fearlessly to prevent any action inimical to the public interest while at the same time we encourage honest American enterprise seek an expansion of our trade endeavor to have our foreign commerce extended and in every way make the American name commercially a name of the first rank throughout the world."

The nominee repeated previous attacks on the course of the administration toward Mexico also his declaration that the administration had brought this country into serious differences with Mexico.

"No one could very easily, without the utmost folly, have brought us into war," Mr. Hughes said, "but we have been brought far closer to it than we should have been by the weakness and vacillation that this administration has shown."

Mr. Hughes reiterated the declaration that he wanted the woman suffrage issue speedily settled by amendment, granting woman suffrage to the federal constitution. The nominee also emphasized what he termed the need for industrial and commercial co-operation and preparedness. Inasmuch, he said, as within ten years after the Russo-Japanese war, Russia instead of being steeped in debt had doubled in prosperity, there was every indication that recovery from financial burdens imposed on the present European war would be much more rapid than anticipated now.

Ten minute stops and brief addresses were made at several towns on the way and at Miles City, Mont., where there was a forty-minute stop. Mr. Hughes left the train and delivered an address in the public square. His talk there was virtually the same as that made in Billings tonight. A squad of cow punchers and cow girls escorted him from the station to the square.

Mr. Hughes left here late tonight for Helena, where he will deliver an address tomorrow noon.

Adjutant General Bond issued a statement before leaving based on the reports of members of the national guard of West Virginia now on relief duty, showing that 38 persons are missing. Of this number 16 are missing at Ferndale, five at Orange, 11 at Cabin Creek, four at Horse Creek and two at Peytona.

INFANTILE PARALYSIS IS NOT CONSIDERED DANGEROUS IN CHINA

Chinese Physicians Report To Health Commissioner Emerson of New York After Investigation of Cases Being Treated in Hospitals.

New York, Aug. 11.—Infantile paralysis is not considered especially dangerous in China where it has been known for centuries, where it is attributed to atmospheric condition due to hot, humid weather. Dr. Lee Hang Gee and Dr. Yuen Hock Ting reported to Health Commissioner Emerson here today.

The Chinese physicians made their report after an investigation of cases of the disease now being treated in hospitals. The atmospheric condition responsible for the epidemic is known in China as "wong sah," they assert and is similar to the Bermuda high, which recently passed over the eastern states.

Their report says that the peculiar atmosphere permeated the pores of young children, reducing blood pressure, whereupon circulation becomes sluggish and the limbs cease their functions. Many deaths from the disease are attributed to negligent parents.

Health Commissioner Emerson said tonight that the viewpoint of pathological study differs so from that of the occidental physicians that he did not care to make a statement. If it is shown that the medicine the Chinese recommend is not harmful and if there is reason to believe it may do good, it might be used, the commissioner said.

Improvement in hospital cases treated by blood serum was reported again today, but difficulty is being experienced in obtaining enough of the serum. Thirty ounces only could be had today, while from 100 to 150 ounces a day are needed for the cases on hand.

WOMAN'S PARTY COMMENDS HUGHES

PLEDGES ITS BEST EFFORTS TO DEFEAT PRESIDENT WILSON

Statement of Policy Is Contained in Three Separate Resolutions—Defeat Efforts To Secure Formal Endorsement of Hughes.

Colorado Springs, Colo., Aug. 11.—The National Woman's Party in conference here today pledged itself to use its best efforts to defeat the Democratic candidate for president; congratulated the Progressive, Prohibition and Socialist parties upon their endorsement of suffrage for women by national action, and commended the position of Charles Evans Hughes, the Republican nominee.

The statement of policy was contained in three separate resolutions. The one pertaining to the Democrats follows:

"Whereas, The present administration of President Wilson and the Democratic party have persistently opposed the passage of a national suffrage amendment, and

"Whereas, The other national parties, either by their platform or thru their candidates, is pledged to the passage of a federal amendment, enfranchising women,

"Therefore, Be it resolved, That the National Woman's Party so long as the opposition of the Democratic party continues pledges itself to use its best efforts in the twelve states where women vote for president to defeat the Democratic candidate for president and in the eleven states where the woman vote for the members of congress to defeat the candidates of the Democratic party for congress."

Effort to secure a formal endorsement of the candidacy of Mr. Hughes was defeated.

National officers of the party were apparently elated with the result of the conference. The non-partisan character of the woman's party they said had been maintained and members were in a position to devote their entire energies toward the passage of a federal amendment without "losing their identity in the ranks of other organizations."

Leaders of the movement to support Mr. Hughes declared frankly, however, that they considered a "weak policy" had been adopted.

Public announcement of the party's policy was made by party leaders at an open air meeting tonight.

CONTINUE DEBATE ON SALE OF THE DANISH WEST INDIES

COPENHAGEN, Aug. 11.—via London, Aug. 12.—The Folkething today continued the debate on the sale of the Danish West Indies Islands to the United States. A large number of the members took part in the debate.

The opposition speakers offers the suggestion that the population of the islands be allowed a referendum on the proposed sale. Replying, the minister of foreign affairs said that the American government had been asked whether it was favorable to such a referendum, and that it refused to sanction it.

The debate will continue tomorrow and it is possible that a vote may be reached in the evening.

SENATE DEMOCRATS APPROVE AMENDMENT TO REVENUE BILL

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—The Democratic senate caucus tonight approved a committee amendment to the revenue bill which would increase the surtax on incomes in excess of $2,000,000 from ten percent to thirteen percent. Withdrawal by the committee of an amendment to reduce the income exemptions to $3,000 and $2,000 for married and single persons, prevented a threatened caucus revolt on that issue. The caucus approved the provision making the normal income tax 2 percent instead of the present one percent and adopt an amendment providing that no income assessment should apply to dividends accruing before March 1, 1913, the date the income tax constitutional amendment became effective.

The caucus did not reach to-night the inheritance tax increases or the amendment substituting net profit taxes on manufacturers of munitions. It will meet again tomorrow afternoon.

APPARENTLY CONFIRM ALLEGED CONFESSION OF IRVING KING

AUBURN, N. Y., Aug. 11.—Confirmation apparently was obtained here tonight of the alleged confession of Irving King, an itinerant peddler, that he murdered Charles E. Phelps, a West Shesley farmer, and the latter's housekeeper, Mrs. Margaret Wolcott, for whose death Charles F. Stielow now is in Sing Sing death chamber.

Clarence O'Connell, one of the inmates of Auburn prison, denied that he fired the shots which killed Phelps and Mrs. Wolcott, as alleged by King. It was said he admitted being with King but blames him for the murders. Other convicts here are reported to have corroborated O'Connell.

TO PROBE PROPOSED ADVANCE IN RETAIL PRICE OF BREAD

Chairman of Federal Trade Commission Makes Statement in Chicago.

CHICAGO, Aug. 11.—Proposed increase in the retail price of bread is to be investigated by the federal trade commission, according to Edward N. Hurley, chairman of the commission who came to Chicago today.

Chairman Hurley said the alleged statement of J. Ray Burns, president of the national association of master bakers at Salt Lake City, last week that the price of bread would be increased sounded like an investigation was needed.

That the country must prepare for an advance in the price of bread was the statement tonight by Paul Schulze, president of a local company after a conference of Chicago bakers. The five cent loaf of bread is to be advanced to six cents within two weeks, according to President Schulze.

"With the leading brands of flour at $8.10 a barrel to the dealer," said Schulze, "and with prospects of it going higher, the housewife must concern herself at this time with the bread buying situation. If flour prices remain at the present figure it will be impossible for bakers to sell the small loaf at five cents."

Belief's Public Misunderstood

Salt Lake City, Utah, Aug. 11.—S. F. McDonald, president of the National association of Master Bakers, said today that the opinion of the association calling for a general increase in the price of bread from 5 to 10 cents a loaf probably has been misunderstood by some of the general public and apparently by the government officials.

"The convention voted not for a price of 10 cents for the present five cent loaf, but for the general style of 10 cent loaves," he said. "We want to get the public into the habit of buying 10 cent loaves. Incidentally because of the high price of materials and the present narrow margin of profit it is proposed to diminish the size of the present 10 cent loaf slightly. We welcome an investigation into the cost of bread-making."

George E. Barnard, state food and drug commissioner of Indiana told the bakers in an address today that their demand for the ten cent loaf was reasonable.

"I find no justice in the demand for a sixteen ounce loaf for a nickel," he said, "no reason why bread or milk should be sold at a flat price while the price of steaks, fruits, vegetables and other commodities fluctuates every day."

PRESIDENT CONSIDERING TRANS-CONTINENTAL TRIP

Invitations Are Being Placed on File in Case Executive Decides to Make a Long Campaign Trip.

Washington, Aug. 11.—President Wilson is seriously considering a trans-continental campaign trip. Congressional callers at the white house today gained the impression that he virtually had decided on such a step, but officials said later that his plans for the campaign still were uncertain and depended largely upon congress.

Invitations for the president to speak in all parts of the country are being placed on file in case Mr. Wilson decides to make a long campaign trip. Some of his advisers are urging him to cross the continent, but others believe he should spend most of the time at his summer home at Shadow Lawn, keeping in close touch with the government departments in Washington.

A definite decision is expected within two weeks.

Democratic leaders insist that the campaign trip of Charles Evans Hughes, the Republican nominee would have no effect on the president's plans. The president today completed his speech accepting the Democratic nomination. It will be short and will review in detail the legislative achievements of the administration.

MULFORD WINS FEATURE OF PIKE'S PEAK HILL CLIMBING CONTEST

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Aug. 11.—Ralph Mulford won the feature event in the Pike's Peak hill climbing contest this afternoon. His time over the 12-1/2 mile course was 18 minutes 48.7 seconds, notwithstanding that he lost one minute and 20 seconds in adjusting his carburetor. George Buzzane, was second, Ernest Parrish was third and Barney Oldfield last.

The first race was won by Fred Junk in 23 minutes, four seconds, his teammate, Roy Stentz, finishing second in 23.29. Henry Jones was third in 26.03.

Billowy clouds enveloped the peak and crowds along the race course heard the roar of motors long before the cars came into view. The machines plowing thru thick, white cloud banks, were visible for only a moment and were swallowed up again.

The winners today received $500 each; second place carried a cash reward of $250, and third place $100.

FRENCH ATTACK BUGLARS

Russian, Italian and French armies continue successfully their offensives and, according to the latest official communications have taken more territory from the forces of the Central Powers in France, Galicia and Austria.

Stanislaw, an important railway junction has been occupied by Russian troops. In addition Russians have progressed on the line of the Sereth river as well as along the Zlota Lipa, taking important positions south of Brody and capturing the railway town of Monasterzyska and several villages.

The taking of Stanislaw, which Vienna admits, opens another gateway thru which Russians may advance toward Lemberg. Petrograd reports the capture of five thousand more Austro-Germans. The Italian army which took Gorizia is losing no time in its advance south of Gorizia. Italians have occupied the entire Dobrodo plateau, driving Austrians east of Vallone line and capturing several towns in the direction of Triest.

East of Gorizia the Italians have not met with as much success as in the south.

Rome officially reports Austrians holding out in trenches on the line of Monte San Gabriele and Monte San Martino.

French have followed up their bombardment of the German lines with the capture of additional trenches near Maurepas and a fortified quarry north of the Hemwood.

The French also have established a new line on the ridge south of Maurepas and have taken two small woods north of the Hemwood.

On the Balkan front the Anglo-French forces have attacked the Bulgarians and occupied the Doiran railway station forty miles northwest of Saloniki, according to unofficial advices.

Petrograd admits the evacuation of Hamadan, Persia, under pressure of Turkish attacks.

FIND CASE OF BABY PARALYSIS IN PARTY TRAVELING IN WAGONS

DANVILLE, Ill., Aug. 11.—Dr. Godfrey of the state board of health today confirmed the diagnosis of City Health Commissioner Landauer in the case of the 9 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Collier, who, with three other families were traveling in wagons from Terre Haute to Hoopesboro.

The child was declared suffering from infantile paralysis and was sent to the county farm pest house while her father, mother and four other children are also quarantined at the county farm. The other three families are quarantined a few miles north of the city and every precaution is being taken to isolate the case.

New York, Aug. 11.—Theodore Roosevelt may invade the middle west in the interest of the Republican campaign it was announced here tonight by National Chairman William R. Wilcox. The plan calls for five or six speeches by Colonel Roosevelt, according to Mr. Wilcox.

Mr. Wilcox said he expected former President Taft and Elihu Root also would aid in the campaign.

"Big Guns" in Maine Campaign.

The state of Maine must be considered a real political battle ground if one may judge from the list of notable Republican speakers who will take part. Colonel Roosevelt will make his first speech of the campaign there August 31. The other "notables" who will take part in an offensive movement on the Democratic trenches will be Governor Frank B. Willis of Ohio, Senators William E. Borah, Lawrence Y. Sherman, Henry Cabot Lodge and Congressman Nicholas Longworth. Certainly there will be some political fireworks in Maine during the weeks succeeding August 31.

Pin Money for Postmasters.

Postmasters of the second, third, and fourth classes now have the opportunity for increasing their salaries. A provision in the army bill authorizes the payment to them of $5 for each recruit they obtain for military service. Postmasters are expected to procure applications for enlistment and report the names to some recruiting officer. If after examination the applicants are accepted $5 a head is due to the postmaster transmitting the name. The new rule puts a sort of monetary value on patriotism. Since the postmasters so frequently enlist in the political army without a special remuneration, it seems as if the work of securing army recruits might be assigned to them without special "pay."

Women's Party for Hughes.

The National Women's Party leaders in conference at Colorado Springs took expected action when they commended the suffrage position of Charles Evans Hughes and declared war on the Democratic nominee in the twelve states where women have the right to vote for president and in eleven states their thyfieldtunit-por. taioe states where they can vote for members of congress. No other course was left to the women if they were sincere in their desire to have a suffrage amendment submitted to the people. The lines on the suffrage question as between the Democratic and Republican parties have been clearly drawn thru Mr. Hughes' unequivocal statements and President Wilson's indirect opposition to the federal amendment plan.

One of the best bits of evidence to prove that prosperity this year has been the result of munitions orders is shown by the statistics published in the Railway Age, showing business depression of the fiscal year of 1915. There were 7,342 less

Rippling Rhymes By WALT MASON

DOG DAYS

The sun trails on, across the brassy sky, the grass is brown, the earth is hard and dry, the trees are drooping in the yellow glare, the birds are swooning in the torrid air, and melting man cries out—alas, in vain—"I'd give three bones to see a good wet rain!" Men stand and gasp, apostrophize the heat, where moultn elms cast shade upon the street, relate old tales, and say they will be burned if ever yet they were so scorched and burned. The women rest in hammock and high chair, and with their fans attempt to stir the air; in modest terms they say there is no sense in heat that melts the knotholes in the fence. The little kids don't play upon the street, but hang around and talk of prickly heat. The wilting dogs, for which these days were named, crawl in their holes, embarrassed and ashamed. Cheer up, sad hearts, and think about the coal for which you soon must blow the hard-earned roll! Full soon these days of torture will be gone—how will you then redeem your duds from pawn—the duds you'll need to keep your systems warm, and shield your whiskers from the bitter storm?

John W. Peaker of this City Met With Old Comrades of 116th Illinois.

John W. Peaker of this city was one of 25 veterans of the 116th Illinois volunteers in the War of the Rebellion that attended the 50th or golden jubilee reunion in Decatur Thursday. The reunion has been an annual event for a long period and each year sees the number of those who attend dwindling. Five members of the company have died during the past year. The oldest veteran in attendance at the reunion was John Fields of Cerro Gordo, who recently passed his 86th birthday. The youngest member was John W. Foster of Niantic, who is 74 years of age. It goes without saying that the reunion each year is a notable event and the comrades of fifty years ago greatly enjoy getting together and comparing war time memories.

August 12, 1810—General William Henry Harrison held a conference at Vincennes with Tecumseh, the famous Indian chief. Instead of making peace, the latter became so enraged that he stirred up most of the Indians of the Old Northwest to make war on the whites.

freight cars and 815 less locomotives in service during that period than at the close of 1914. In only one other year since 1890 has the number of locomotives shown a falling off from the previous year and in only three years during the last 26 has the number of freight cars shown a reduction from the number of the previous year. Transportation business was slack in 1915 and it was only in special lines that any great activity was noted.

The Right Kind of Material.

Fred C. Walbaum of Ashland is a candidate for representative in the general assembly from the 30th senatorial district which includes Cass county. He has for years been one of the most prominent farmers and stock men in Cass county, in addition to his banking interests, and he has the well deserved reputation of being a high class citizen. Mr. Walbaum is a man of the type that the people will do well to honor and a legislature made up of men of his ability and class would be of great benefit to the state of Illinois.

"Gold Braid" and the Cold Facts.

The American Defense society has on display a preparedness exhibit, designed to aid recruiting in the several branches of the naval and military service. Lectures, motion pictures and other features form a part of the exhibit which was planned to interest young men and to show them the possibilities for advancement and educational training in the army, navy and marine corps. Probably the exhibit, like the posters which are always displayed in front of recruiting stations, show the "gold braid" part of military service, but the youth who goes into either the army or navy expecting life to be like that in the posters is doomed to sad disappointment. The country has need for a greatly enlarged army and the government would be open to the charge of "obtaining goods under false pretenses" if it were not true that the great majority of the people realize that only the few who enlist can wear fine uniforms and live with comfort, while the great majority must see little other than hard work and in some cases mere drudgery.

Must Tell About Contributions.

Railway trainmen who are now in controversy with the railroads and their associates will approve the stand taken by Chief Counsel Folk of the District of Columbia supreme court, in declaring that a railroad has no right to withhold from the interstate commerce commission any facts about political contributions the company has made. Railroad workers have charged in the past that among reasons the railroads were not paying higher wages is because of extravagant methods of management and large political contributions.

Some interesting light may be thrown on the whole railroad situation as the result of the court's ruling. The court declared "the operation of a railroad is not the private concern of those who are running it but is subject to governmental regulations and governmental visitation. There can be nothing private or confidential in the expenditure of the funds of a carrier engaged in interstate commerce as against the power of the government. It must admit all of its business and all of its expenditures to the commission on suitable demand."

Primary Election Unfairness

One of the possibilities for unfairness under the Illinois primary law is to present names of candidates in such a way that the voters are confused. Since the primary law became effective it has become an "old dodge" for a candidate to persuade some of the friends of the other candidates to run for office and thus split up the vote. Another plan followed in not so many cases has been to secure candidates of the same name in order to cause confusion among the voters.

This very thing seems to have happened to Lewis G. Stevenson, present secretary of state, who is seeking nomination for that office on the Democratic ticket. Louis C. Stevenson, Louie Stevenson, Lew Stevenson and C. J. Stevenson, all of them, strange to say, are seeking the same office. And it is very apparent that some of the secretary's political enemies are seeking in this manner to bring about his defeat. Since his appointment by Governor Dunne to fill out the term of Secretary Wood, now deceased, Mr. Stevenson has made a good record and it has been acknowledged that he has had a lead over competitors in securing the nomination.

The primary law passed by the legislature some years ago as a reform measure and has some good features, but it needs some amending if it is not to be used as the means for political trickery and thus robbing the people of the rights it was supposed to confer. The principal objection urged against the primary law is the great expense that it creates for candidates, but the opportunity it affords for trickery is just as great an objection.

WARNING!
All candidates and others are hereby notified that the posting of any signs or posters on telephone, telegraph or electric light poles in the city is a violation of the city ordinances, and that all violations will be punished.

Miss Phillips Hostess

To Pleasant Hour Club

Miss Bea Phillips entertained members of the Pleasant Hour club Friday afternoon at her home on West State street. There was good attendance and the hours were spent in a very pleasant manner. Invincible Class

Has Lawn Social

A successful social was given the invincible class of Northminster Presbyterian church Thursday afternoon on the lawn of Independence school. Excellent ice cream was served and there were stands for soda pop and various confections. The young men of the class had worked hard in preparation for the event and a good sum was cleared for the class' treasury.

Annual Outing of Concord Christian Church

The annual outing of Concord Christian church and Sunday school was held Friday at Nichols Park, making the trip to Jacksonville by rig and auto. Estates in ample quantity were furnished, sufficient for a bountiful feast at midday and a luncheon early in the evening. Social conversation and games occupied the afternoon hours and the attendance was decreased this year by weather and road conditions, all voted the occasion a success.

TRAVELERS TO THE WEST

Some weeks since James McCormick of the southeast part of the county sold his wheat, nearly 1100 bushels, put his farm generally in order and not feeling very well decided a western trip taken in his Overland car would go him good. He accordingly arranged with Hugh McDavitt, Fred Scott and Robert Barrows to go along and away they started a day or two ago. Fred Scott was in rather poor health too and felt the trip would do him good. They started for Kansas meaning to visit a brother of Fred Scott at Udall, near Winfield, Stafford, where several of the Richardson family live, and other parts. They took along coats and bedding and will camp enroute, eating at hotels. They expected to be absent two or three weeks.

AFTER MANY YEARS

Louis Michaels of Aurora, Missouri, is visiting friends in the city after an absence of thirty years. His mother was a sister of the late Jonathan Neely, whom he remembers very well. Mr. Neely was the soul of honor in business but couldn't bear anything that savored of cowardice. One day he told his nephew to mount and ride a horse.

"But I'm afraid he'll throw me," said the boy.
"Get on that horse and if you fall off I'll whip you."

ELECTION IN VIRGINIA

Petitions are now being circulated to have the local option question again submitted to the people of Virginia and it is understood that enough signatures have been secured to require the vote. Virginia has been without saloons for nearly ten years, and judging by the vote when the question was last before the people, the saloon advocates have very little chance of winning. In that election 672 men and women voted and 547 of them were opposed to saloons. The women of the town made a remarkable record in that they voted unanimously against the saloons.
A total of 408 women voted on the question.

HUGHES' STATEMENTS STIR UP POLITICAL DEBATE IN SENATE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—Statements of Charles E. Hughes in his western campaign speeches criticising Democratic methods of allotting rivers and harbors appropriations stirred up a brief political debate in the senate today.

Senator Hansdell, a Democratic member of the committee which handles such legislation, quoted Mr.
Hughes' assertion at Fargo that no expert examination had been made to determine the need of appropriations and continued:

"Mr. Hughes must know the facts when he makes a statement of this kind, and anyone who knows the facts must know that no kind of an appropriation is considered until it is passed on by a competent board of army engineers."

Senator Smoot, Republican, contradicted Senator Hansdell, declaring numerous appropriations had been made without the approval of engineers.

APPEALS FOR MEN FOR FIRST REGIMENT OF FIELD ARTILLERY

CHICAGO, Aug. 11.—A personal appeal to Chicago's large employers ployer to send at least two.

Under the new ruling of the war department, Illinois is to furnish two more regiments of field artillery and in the opinion of Major Vincent the men who make up these two regiments will have an excellent opportunity to receive good commissions.

reply to Sweden's protest.

The Russian note expresses regret over the incidents and assures Sweden that Russia is anxious to avoid any act which might violate the neutrality of Sweden.

REFUSE TO DELIVER ICE TO DAIRIES

St. Louis, Aug. 11.—Union ice wagon drivers this afternoon decided to refuse to deliver ice, beginning Saturday to the nine dairies affected by the strike and lookout of union milk wagon drivers. This, it is feared, will precipitate a general strike of ice wagon drivers and cut off household delivery of ice thruout the city.

MYSTERY SURROUNDING DEATH OF DAVIS DEEPER THAN EVER

CHICAGO, Aug. 11.—The mystery surrounding the death of Morse Davis, a Canadian mining man, was pronounced "deeper than ever" by Captain John Ryan of the South
Clark street station today after John Russell, a detective sergeant, had interviewed Mrs. Davis and given a report to the captain.

Mrs. Davis, still suffering from poison she is supposed to have taken at the same time Davis took the drug which caused his death in a hotel here said nothing in the interview about taking the poison by mistake or about the possibility of its having accidentally been mixed with salts she and her husband took. Previously she was quoted as saying the medicine and poison had been mixed.

"Both of us were feeling ill when we retired early Wednesday morning," she told Russell. "I was very pale and suggested a hot toddy would do us both good, so he mixed one for each of us. He drank his but I did not touch mine. He said we ought to take some salts but we decided to wait till morning."

"When we arose in the morning he mixed us each a dose in the bathroom. We drank the mixtures and immediately he grew white as a sheet and staggered about. I telephoned for a doctor and remember nothing since."

An Everyday Cake

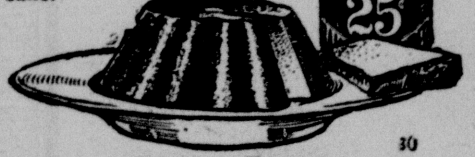

Here is a simple and inexpensive cake that can be varied in many ways with different frostings and icings. It looks a little nicer baked in a tube pan, but will be equally as good baked in a square loaf.

K. C. Gold Cake

By Mrs. Janet McKenzie Hill, Editor of the Boston Cooking School Magazine.

2 cup butter; 1 cup sugar; yolks of 4 eggs, beaten light; 1 cup flour, less 2 level tablespoons; 2 level teaspoonsful K. C. Baking Powder; 2 cup milk; grated rind of 1 orange.

Sift flour and baking powder together three times; cream butter and sugar, beat yolks of eggs, add these to creamed mixture, and lastly add the moisture and flour alternately, beating batter until smooth. Gold Cake can only be made successfully by beating yolks of eggs, very, very creamy and light lemon colored, using a rotary beater. The rotary beater is the only beater that will do justice to the yolks of eggs. The beating kills all egg taste and improves the texture of the cake.

Cocoanut Frosting

Beat the whites of 2 eggs dry; gradually beat in half a cup of sifted confectioner's sugar and continue the beating until the frosting is smooth, thick and glossy; then beat in grated cocoanut, fresh or prepared, and spread upon the cake. This frosting is made thick by beating rather than by sugar.

Save this recipe. You will want to use it frequently. Or better, send us the colored certificate packed in each 25-cent can of K. C. Baking Powder and we will mail you "The Cook's Book" containing this and 89 other baking recipes equally good—all by Mrs. Hill. Jacques Mfg. Co., Chicago.

NURSE RELIEVES MUCH SUFFERING

The Patient She Helped Makes Interesting Statement.

Madison, Wis.—Mrs. Oscar Day, of 1806 Madison Ave., Fair Oaks, this town, says: "Before my baby was born, I suffered terribly with womanly troubles and nervousness, and was living in a state of fear all the time. One day, an old friend of mine, who, by the way, is a nurse, and goes around to all cases, brought me a bottle of Cardui, the woman's tonic, and told me to keep on taking it right along. I did, and felt much better after the first bottle. I kept on taking it, and had as little trouble as anybody could wish for. Feeling very good now."

There never was a better medicine for women than Cardui, and I will recommend it to any one who is in need of it. This nurse uses Cardui with her patients, so it is well known all around here.

I am never without a bottle of Cardui in my home."

We urge you to try Cardui, the woman's tonic, for your troubles. It will help you over the hard places, just as it has thousands of other women.

Don't delay. Begin taking Cardui today. You won't regret it. NCRS

MANY NEW PLAYS IN PROSPECT FOR THIS SEASON

Prosperous Conditions Are Expected and Managers Will Risk More Than Usual Number of Attractions.

New York, Aug. 11.—Managerial plans for the new season, as announced from the various offices, indicate much general theatrical activity this year. The rather unexpected prosperity of the season of 1915-16 has given the producers the courage as well as the necessary wherewithal to carry out any new plans they have in mind, and in consequence the season now about to begin bears the preliminary promises of being one of the most notable in recent years.

Although some of the managers will hold back their more important productions until after the presidential election, a number of new plays have already been offered to the public and many others are in prospect for the near future. As in other seasons, however, it is to be expected that a number of the plays the managers say they have for production will not be presented this year except in emergencies, such as successive failures of plays upon which the greater hope had been placed.

A sweeping drive of new plays has struck Broadway thus early in the new season. Miss Blanche Ring reopened Maxine Elliott's theatre this week in Willard Mack's latest comedy, "Broadway and Butter-milk." Maxine's comedy, "Cheating Cheaters," has been put on at the Eltinge, with Miss Marjorie Rambeau, who is Mrs. Willard Mack in private life, in the chief role. At Cohan's theatre this week David Belasco presented Roi Coper Megrue's play, "Seven Chances," an exceedingly early premiere for a Belasco attraction. The thirty-ninth street theatre has been reopened with "The Belle of Trouville," a musical play, with Mme. Chapine in the leading part.

Before the end of the month another Willard Mack play, "King, Queen, Jack," will reach Broadway followed by Miss Fenwick in "The Guilty Man," the new drama by the late Charles Klein and Miss Ruth Helen Davis. Two productions of promise are announced for next week when the Charles Frohman company will introduce Miss Ann Murdock at the Lyceum in "Please Help Emily," and the Messrs. Shubert will present "The Brazilian Honeymoon," an elaborate musical comedy, at the Forty-fourth Street theatre.

"The Guilty Man," "Cheating Cheaters," and "King, Queen, Jack" will be presented under the direction of A. H. Woods. Other attractions to be presented by Mr. Woods early in the season will include "The Squab Farm," a new comedy by Robert Deson; a new farce comedy entitled "His Bridal Night," to be presented next week with the Dolly Sisters as stars, and a new play by Louis Anspacher entitled "That Day," in which Kathryn Kidder will have the leading role.

The offerings announced by the Charles Frohman company, in addition to those already mentioned, will include a new Barrie play for Maude Adams, entitled "A Kiss for Cinderella," a new comedy by W. Somerset Maugham, and new plays for Ethel Barrymore and Otis Swinner.

The Shuberts include in their plays the production of Eugene Walter's dramatization of the "The Little Shepherd of Kingdom Come," Mark Swain's farce, "Somebody's Luggage," featuring James T. Powers, and a new comedy by Alfred Sutro. As usual the Shuberts will make a great many musical productions and they will also send out more than the usual number of road companies. Many of last season's successes will be continued, including Sam Sothern in "A Pair of Silk Stockings," Lou Tellegen in "A King of Nowhere," and Marie Tempest in "A Lady's Name."

The first offering of Selwyn & Co. will be "John W. Blake," a new play by Roi Cooper Megrue and Irvin Cobb, with George Nash and Janet Beacher in the principal roles. Margaret Hillington will be starred in a new comedy by Avery Hopwood and Jane Cowi will have a new comedy called "Betty Behave," by Ralph Renaud.

The list of new plays to be produced by Cohan and Harris before the new year includes two from the pen of George M. Cohan. One of these is "The Cohan Revue, 1917," which will be presented Christmas Night. The other is a comedy written for Chauncey Olcott. Another of the firm's productions is James Montgomery's new comedy, "Irene O'Dare," which has already been given its premiere. "The Moral Code" by Cyril Harcourt, author of "A Pair of Silk Stockings," is to be tried out at Long Branch next week. Other new plays to be seen in New York before New Year's Day include "Buried Treasures," a comedy of romance and adventure by Rida Johnson Young, and "The Road to Destiny," adapted from one of O. Henry's stories. Still other Cohan and Harris productions in prospect are "Speed Up," a farce by Owen Davis, and "I Love the Ladies," a comedy by Emily Baylitz and John Richards. Some of the Cohan and Harris successes of the last two seasons will be sent on tour, including "The Great Lover," "The House of Glass," "It Pays to Advertise," and "Hit-the-Trail-Holiday."

BRADSTREET'S STATES OUTLOOK FOR FALL IS MOST ENCOURAGING

Lessened Cereal Crop Yields Will Be
Offset by High Prices.

New York, Aug. 11.—Bradstreet's
tomorrow will say:

"Neither poor wheat reports, nor uncertainty about the outcome of mediation between railway employes and managers halt trade which proceeds at an unusually good pace. The outlook for fall is most encouraging.
Lessened cereal crop yields will be
offset by high prices.

"Export trade in most products is enormous and buying power has been largely increased. In a few places in the west there is a disposition to await corn crop developments. Merchants' excursions have brought numerous buyers to leading markets, with the result that house trade in drygoods, clothing and shoes has expanded in a noteworthy degree.
Interior distributors fear a goods famine in textiles later on. Weekly bank clearings $4,062,327,000."

WHEAT AVERAGES LOWER DESPITE NUMEROUS UPTURNS

Close Is Weak At 1/2 to 1 1/4 Cents Down—Welcome Rains Ease Down Corn.

Chicago, Aug. 11.—Despite numerous upturns the wheat market today averaged lower, influenced to a considerable extent by assertions that owing to cooler weather the black rust danger in Saskatchewan might not prove so serious as many traders had been led to believe. The close was weak 1/2 to 1 1/4 down with Sept. at $1.45 and Dec. at $1.46 to $1.47.

Corn showed 3/4 to 1 1/2 net decline and oats a loss of 1/4 to 1/2c. Provisions finished unchanged to 25c lower.

Dutch government buying tended somewhat to check aggressiveness of wheat bears. Welcome rains eased down corn. Oats weakened with other cereals. Free realizing by holders had a depressing effect on provisions.

HOGS CONTINUE TO ADVANCE BECAUSE OF LOWER RECEIPTS

Most Cattle Go To Killers Direct As Do a Large Number of the Sheep and Lambs.

Chicago, Aug. 11.—Hogs today continued to advance in value as receipts so far this week were still much below the corresponding total a week ago.

Former Pittsfield Resident Writes From Texas Viewpoint About Border Conditions

The following letter taken from the Pittsfield Democrat gives an intimate picture of conditions which attend army mobilization along the border:

Amarillo, Texas, Aug. 8, 1916.

"We are much concerned over conditions on the border and they are worse than is realized back east. One of the boys in a Michigan regiment wrote me we had no conception of how many boys had been killed by the Mexican snipers. I have given a good deal of time the last month to sending them magazines, and answering their post cards acknowledging them. Thousands of people here met the troop trains and carried them sandwiches and magazines and they were very grateful, so much so that they wrote back still acknowledging them."

"There were 1600 boys on one train from Pennsylvania and trains ran thru night after night, all night. I do not know how many went thru here to El Paso but there were frequently 800 to a train. They seemed to be mostly from Connecticut, Pennsylvania, Michigan and Massachusetts."

"It was not permitted to be known when the troop trains were coming as the Mexicans tried to kill the engineers and did kill one, and one of the boys had been an engineer so he brought the train into Amarillo; but if they remained on the track half an hour or so one of my sister's music pupils who lived near the Santa Fe, would phone us and you ought to have seen the neighborhood get into automobiles and race down to the train and such a handshaking as there was. Many of the boys were pale faced little chaps who looked as though they had worked in factories, but all were glad to see any one interested enough as they expressed it, 'to give us a glad hand on our way to the border.'"

"The Michigan troops were especially glad to see Nellie as she told them she knew their Governor Ferris, whom you will remember taught school in Pittsfield."

"One officer said he talked to them for an hour and that when he bade them goodbye the tears were streaming down his face. There were 800 boys on this train, with twenty one coaches. As they pulled out one boy cried, 'if you write to Governor Ferris tell him we are getting along all right.'"

"I saw a child hand up a bunch of sweet peas and as they rounded the curve a private had placed them in a tomato can in the window. No one knew any creed or caste; they were American soldiers, and so many of them wrote back, 'We liked Amarillo, the town with the funny name.'"

WOMEN IN THE NEWS

Acting on the advice of Professor Henry C. Cowles of the botany department of the University of Chicago, a score of co-eds of the university have very sensibly donned boys' khaki trousers to go on the botanical research trip which Professor Cowles is now conducting through the wilds of Wisconsin and Minnesota and which will return to Chicago the last of this month. "On account of the rough nature of the field work in the Lake Superior region, read Professor Cowles' circular of instruction, 'the women are earnestly urged to be ready to discard skirts on the more difficult trips and adopt boys' khaki trousers, which are both cheap and satisfactory.' This sensible suggestion was generally met with as sensible approval and compliance, and many of the hardships of the trip thus lessened for the feminine members of the party.

Mme. Rosika Schwimmer of Budapest, the international feminist leader and peace advocate, who initiated the movement which resulted in the Ford peace conference, has returned to the United States on a flying trip from Scandinavia. In spite of the rather lamentable Odyssey of the Ford peace ship, whose disastrous career over the seas was watched by two amazed continents, Mme. Schwimmer, it appears, has lost faith neither in peace nor in Henry Ford's capacity for distributing dollars. Though no longer officially connected with the Stockholm conference, Mme. Schwimmer has gone to Detroit for the special purpose of calling on Mr. Ford, and we shall see what we shall see. Peace, says Mme. Schwimmer, must be "worked" by the peace workers. The warriors themselves will never think of it and will fight till Europe is destroyed. William Jennings Bryan arrived at Detroit the same time as Mme. Schwimmer did, which fact fully gave color to the rumors that somebody might again soon "start something," in the "out-of-the-trenches-by-Christmas line. By the way, why "Madame" and not "Frau" Schwimmer? "Madame" Schwimmer's efforts at convincing Americans that she was not very patriotically "working" peace for the benefit of the Teutonic allies have by this time become a trifle pathetic.

Miss Clyde Giltner Chandler of Chicago is the sculptor of the magnificent memorial fountain erected by Dallas, Texas, to the memory of Captain Sydney Smith, a benefactor of the Texas town. Miss Chandler has called her group "The Gulf Cloud," in recognition of "the dewy benediction in moisture, that the Gulf gives Texas." Several famous American sculptors have declared the work to be one of the most skillfully executed pieces of sculpture ever due to a woman's chisel. Miss Chandler worked three years on the modeling of the figures. She is now in Dallas superintending the foundation and setting up of her remarkable group. Dallas is the native town of the talented young sculptor but after the dedication of the memorial she will return to Chicago, where she was a pupil of Lorado Taft, the famous artist.

Rhode Island's most patriotic heiress, Miss Lyra Brown Nickerson, is to wed, this week having announced her engagement to Henry C. Clarke, an assistant director of athletics of Brown University. Miss Nickerson is known as the "Little Major" of the aviation corps of the Rhode Island Naval Militia, and presented the State of Rhode Island with its first hydroaeroplane, at a cost of $7,500. The gift was made through the Society for National Defense, and in recognition of the patriotic spirit shown by the young women in the interest of preparedness the plane has been named the "Lyra." The "Little Major" besides is not only patriotic, but game, and recently enjoyed to the utmost a flight in the "Lyra" declaring afterwards that she might take up the study of aviation and herself enter Uncle Sam's service as an aviatrix.

At a convention of the women of the Central Powers held recently in Vienna, it was unanimously agreed to attempt to secure the abolition of the laws which make celibacy compulsory for women in public office. The decline in the birth rate, which is alarming Germany as it is alarming all other civilized countries in Europe and the extraordinary efforts which will be made after the war to encourage young people to marry, makes the time particularly propitious for the agitation of this question of married women in government or academic positions, which has been a vexed one for working women the world over.

GOTTLIEB RENNER DIES AT HOME OF DAUGHTER IN CHICAGO

Death Came During Night as Result of Asthmatic Affection—Miss Irene Phillips Succumbs to Typhoid—Death of Emanuel Gonsalves.

Albert A. Renner received a telegram Friday forenoon announcing the death of his father, Gottlieb Renner, which took place about 1 o'clock Friday morning at the home of Mrs. Anna Doty of Chicago, daughter of the deceased. Mr. Renner had for several months been troubled with asthma and heart trouble and had been warned by physicians to guard against undue exertion. Mrs. Doty awakened about 1:30 o'clock and noticing a light in her father's room, made investigation, and found that death had occurred some little time before.

Mr. Renner, who has been a resident of Jacksonville the greater part of thirty years, had been visiting his family in Chicago for the past two weeks. Residing in Chicago are Mrs. Renner, wife of the deceased, and four children, Mrs. Anna Doty, Miss Lillian Renner, Edward Renner and George Renner. Albert Renner, president of the Jacksonville Tailoring Co., has always made this city his home. Mr. Renner has chosen to remain in this city and for the past four or five years has resided on East College street at the home of F. J. McGhee.

Mr. Renner was by occupation, a tailor, finding employment in local shops on coming here in 1885 and later engaging in business for himself. Mr. Renner was prominently identified with the socialist labor party and was a close student of economic questions. Four years ago he was candidate for the lieutenant governorship on the socialist labor ticket.

The deceased was born in Stuttgart, Germany, Aug. 5, 1845, and was hence just 71 years of age. His parents died while he was in infancy and he was reared in an orphanage. Coming to America in 1868, Mr. Renner made his home in St. Louis, where in 1872 he was married to Miss Magdalena Gerst.

In all his ways Mr. Renner was quiet and unassuming. In all his dealings he was a man of integrity and uprightness, honest in business and strong of conviction. He was a member of the Jacksonville Tailors' union and had membership in a socialist labor club.

The funeral will be held in Chicago Monday forenoon and burial will be made in that city. Albert Renner expects to leave for Chicago this evening.

Phillips.

Miss Irene Phillips, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Phillips of the Salem neighborhood, died at the Passavant hospital Friday forenoon at 11:00 o'clock. She contracted typhoid fever three weeks ago and two weeks ago was removed to the hospital for treatment. Pneumonia set in and for several days Miss Phillips' condition has been very serious.

Miss Phillips was born at the family home two and one-half miles east of the city, June 10, 1894. At an early age she united with Salem Methodist church and she has always assumed her part in church activity with willingness and zeal. For the past two years she has taught in the schools of the county, the first year at Elm Grove, near Lynville, and last year at Mauvalsterre school. A young woman of equable disposition and pleasing manner, Miss Phillips gave to her teaching duties the best that true devotion could offer. She was beloved by all and the news of her passing will on every hand be received with sadness.

Miss Phillips is survived by her parents and by one sister, Miss Mary Elizabeth Phillips.

Funeral services will be held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the family residence east of the city. The Rev. C. H. Davis, pastor of Salem church, will be in charge. Burial will be in Diamond Grove cemetery.

Gonsalves

Emanuel Gonsalves, for many years a Jacksonville resident, died Friday at the home of his daughter Mrs. G. F. Wonn of Evanston, according to word received here by Mrs. Naomi Martis. Mr. Gonsalves was born on the Island of Madeira, coming to Jacksonville at an early age, and residing on a farm, north of the city until about four years ago.

Surviving Mr. Gonsalves are six children: Mrs. Wonn and Mrs. Helen Vincent of Evanston, Mrs. Joseph Melina of Springfield, Edward and Robert Gonsalves of Hubbard Woods, Ills. Mrs. Gonsalves passed away in 1912.

The body will probably arrive in Jacksonville today and the funeral service will be held Sunday. Announcement of time and place will be made in the Journal of Sunday morning.

GOOD ROADS DIRECTOR HERE

G. F. Rudisill of Columbus, Ohio, good roads director for the state of Ohio, arrived in the city yesterday in his Ford Sedan but was obliged to leave to meet engagements in distant parts. He much regretted his inability to be here Monday and participate in the Burlington Way festivities but prior engagements made it impossible though he had been urged by a number interested in the occasion to be here and take part in the program.

SOME FARM THEMES.

Tazewell County Oats Smut

Many people have asked me what became of the oats smut this year. People have noticed that there is very little oats smut about the threshing machines and was noticed in the fields at the time of cutting. Some have thought that this is merely a year when for some natural cause oats smut did not become prevalent. The answer to the question is contained in the figures gathered by the Farm Bureau in checking up the work this spring.

The reports of the 15 drug stores in the county show that they sold 500 gallons of formaldehyde this spring for treating oats. This takes no account of the formaldehyde bought in Bloomington or Peoria by Tazewell county farmers. At the rate of treating and sowing prevalent here, these 500 gallons are enough to treat fully 62,000 acres, which is the entire acreage of oats in the county as shown by the last census. This shows what has become of the smut. Practically everybody in the county either treated their oats or sowed seed from fields which were treated a year ago.

I have found only a few fields where some oats were sown without treating and these showed smut. One man who is not a Farm Bureau member showed me a strip that he had left without treating and it had about 10 percent of smut while there was hardly a head to be found in the part which he treated. This is a fair sample of conditions in other strips where untreated seed was sown. There is so way of knowing exactly what the gain from treating oats was this year, but the 1914 threshing returns in this county showed a gain of 7 bushels per acre and last year in Livingston county and Champaign county it was fully 5.6 bushels per acre. Taking the latter figure as applying this year in this county we have a gain of 347,260 bushels of oats, which at 35 cents a bushel would be worth $121,520.

The result of the persistent campaign to get people to treat their seed oats for smut is clearly shown in the figures for the last four years. In 1913 when oats seeding was done just before the Farm Bureau began operations, the drug stores sold only 27 1-2 gallons of formaldehyde, enough to treat 3,500 acres or 6 per cent of the total acreage. In 1914 there was 129 1-2 gallons of formaldehyde sold, which would treat 16,500 acres or 27 per cent of the total acreage. In 1915, 339 1-2 gallons of formaldehyde were sold, or enough to treat 43,400 acres or 70 per cent of the total acreage. In 1916, 500 gallons of formaldehyde were sold, or enough to treat the entire 62,000 acres of oats in the county.

Figuring the gain in bushels for the entire county, we have an increase in the oat crop in 1916 from treating of 24,500 bushels at 7 bushels per acre, and at the same rate in 1914 a gain of 115,500 bushels. In 1915 at 5.6 bushels per acre the gain is 243,000 bushels and in 1916 at the same rate the gain is 347,260 bushels. Figuring the gain in dollars at 35 cents per bushel of oats, the extra crop because of treating for smut in 1913 was worth $8,575; in 1914, $40,425; in 1915, $85,050; and in 1916, $121,520. The 1913 gain was not due to the Farm Bureau work but represented the result of the usual amount of oats treated in the county as reported by the drug stores. The 1916 gain exceeds that by $112,945, and this may fairly be considered as the result of the Farm Bureau campaign to induce every farmer in the county to treat oats for smut. John Ryan, of Delavan remarked some time ago that the treating of oats for smut had more than paid for all the cost of the Farm Bureau work in this county and these figures show that he knew what he was talking about.

Water For the Cows

All animals require plenty of good pure water. This is especially true of the milking cow, as the water constitutes more than three-fourths of the volume of milk. The water supply, therefore, demands the dairyman's most careful attention. Stale or impure water is distasteful to the cow and she will not drink enough for maximum milk production. Such water may also carry disease germs which might make the milk unsafe for human consumption or be dangerous to the cow herself. During the winter, when the cows are stabled the greater part of the time, and unless arrangements have been made to keep water before them all the time, they should be watered two or three times a day. If possible the water should be 15 or 20 degrees above the freezing point, and should be supplied at practically the same temperature every day. When water well above freezing temperature is stored in tanks and piped direct to the cow, there is probably little occasion for facilities to warm it; but when it stands in a tank on which ice often forms, it usually pays well to warm it slightly. This can be done by a tank heater, by live steam, or by hot water from a boiler. If a boiler is used for running a separator or for heating water to wash and sterilize utensils, steam from it can readily and cheaply be used to warm the water—Farmer's Bulletin 743.

MISS ELIZA HUGHES DIED AT MIDNIGHT FRIDAY

End Came at Hospital Where She Had Been for Two Weeks—Long Time Jacksonville Resident.

Miss Eliza Hughes, long a resident of Jacksonville, died at midnight Friday at Passavant hospital, where she had been a patient for two weeks. Miss Hughes' death followed an illness covering a period of several months, although she had been confined to her room only a part of that period. She had been in failing health for more than a year past.

For a great many years the deceased lived with her sister, Miss Mary Hughes, in a residence on West Morgan street near Church street, and about 1890 purchased the W. J. property at the corner of West State street and Westminster street, where a new home was erected. Miss Mary Hughes died six years ago, and following her death Miss Eliza Hughes spent part of her time with her brother, Colonel Hughes, in Denver and St. Louis.

Miss Hughes was a devoted member of State Street Presbyterian church and took an active part in the work of the missionary societies and other church organizations. She was a woman of strong convictions, of kindly heart and with extensive reading kept thoroughly abreast of the times. She had for many years been one of the most active members of the Household Science Club, and she had also taken an interest in the work of other literary organizations. Miss Hughes' death marks the going of a Jacksonville resident who had spent the greater part of a long life here, and she will be remembered as one who did not live in vain.

The arrangements for the funeral cannot be announced until information is received from Colonel Hughes, brother of the deceased.

Taxes for the year aggregated $567,498, an increase of $58,034. The balance left for interest was $3,529,025, an increase of $1,600,439. The Clover Leaf, which is in control of the Alton, but with no active part in its management, earned $5,600,000 during the fiscal year, an increase of $1,007,306. Operating expenses aggregated $3,623,000, an increase of $126,937.

The charges were made by deputy state food inspectors and the arrests marked the beginning of a special campaign against the sale of spoiled eggs.

Sues Second Time for Divorce—Mrs. Otschke, living near Edwardsville, has just filed a second suit for divorce from her husband. About a year ago she brought suit and at that time her husband entered into a written agreement to be kind to her, and the suit was withdrawn. Now Mrs. Otschke alleges twenty different acts of cruelty and declares the agreement her husband made has been hopelessly violated.

McCan Davis Estate in Court—J. E. Francis, administrator of the estate of the late J. McCan Davis, has brought suits against the Aetna Life Insurance company on two policies held by the deceased, one for $10,000 and the other for $12,000. A comparatively short time before his death Mr. Davis lost the sight of an eye thru an accident and it is understood to be the contention of the administrator that this accident had some relation to his death.

Engine Awakened Man Asleep Near Track—The Decatur Review has this story about a man who was rudely awakened from his sleep by a Wabash train at Griggsville:

"Say, you surely got your nerve waking me up like this," was the greeting which Wabash Engineer J. E. Rodems of Decatur received when he walked back to see if he had hit a man who had been sleeping on the railroad track.

On No. 28, a fast east bound passenger train, Engineer Rodems saw a man lying on the tracks near Griggsville. The whistle waked the man enough for him to roll to one side as the passenger thundered past.

When Engineer Rodems had backed up to the man who was sitting at the side of the track he was met with an irate outburst from the stranger.

"No wonder we get gray haired so early," was Engineer Rodems' laconic comment at the local roundhouse.

CLERIHAN AUTOPSY CONFIRMS VERDICT OF CORONER'S JURY

Body Exhumed Friday and Examination for Evidence of Foul Play Made.

Results of the post mortem examination of the body of Frank Clerihan Friday forenoon were negative throat and no evidence was found to controvert the finding of the coroner's jury. The autopsy was performed at 9:30 o'clock by the side of the grave in Calvary cemetery, with Frank Reed and John H. O'Donnell performing the operation and Dr. F. A. Norris making the examination. The lungs, stomach, liver, heart and pancreas were preserved for chemical examination, in case it is desired to carry the examination further. No development from the post mortem examination would indicate the necessity of carrying the investigation further as there was no trace of evidence of foul play.

HAD NARROW ESCAPE.
The Wolke Bros. Stutz collided with a rig in front of the residence of J. H. Cain, south of the city, Thursday evening, and the three occupants of the rig, Miss Frances Graubner, Miss Marie McCarthy and Robert McCarthy, her brother, were badly shaken up, the uninjured. The car was going at a high rate of speed and struck the vehicle from the rear, tearing off a wheel. The auto left the road but was not damaged.

CITY STRUCK FRIDAY EVENING BY STORM OF WIND AND RAIN

Trees Blown Down and Barn Struck by Lightning—More Than an Inch of Rainfall.

Rain, which struck Jacksonville just before 7 o'clock Friday evening, and continued at intervals throughout the night broke the heat wave which was again becoming burdensome and put an end to fears of a second period of drought. Heavy rainfall was reported from Greene, Brown and Cass counties. Some damage was done by the wind storm, which broke with great suddenness and which for a few moments seemed to possess cyclonic force.

After two hours of rain, the government gauge at Alexander registered .70 of an inch. In the shower which visited the county at 2 o'clock Friday morning, .38 of an inch fell and the showers later Friday night brought the total to a higher figure.

Barn Destroyed By Fire
The fire department was called to 518 Oak street about seven o'clock where the barn belonging to Sherman Mounts was destroyed by fire, caused by lightning. The fire was discovered quickly, but owing to the long distance the fire department was unable to check the flames upon arriving. In the barn were several garden tools, considerable clover hay and several chickens. These were all destroyed by the flames. Mr. Mounts said last night that some insurance was carried on the property, but he was unable to determine the exact loss.

Other Storm Damage
Aside from the damage done in this instance by lightning, the short storm did considerable damage in minor ways. Several wires were blown down as well as trees. A tree on the Russell property on Caldwell street was blown directly across the street, blocking traffic for a considerable length of time. Several automobiles and other vehicles which were hurrying to escape from the storm were halted by this obstacle and were forced to take another route. A tree on North Prairie street was also blown down but not so as to block traffic. Another on North Diamond fell when the storm was at its worst as did a large tree on South Clay avenue, south of College street.

CORN MARKET ACTIVE

There was unusual activity at the city elevator on West Lafayette avenue yesterday and the street was lined practically all day with wagons loaded with corn. The sharp advance in price of corn which has come during recent days accounts in part for this activity. Another reason for so many teams at one time was because of delay made necessary by the breakage of some machinery. Mr. Cleary, however was able to arrange the necessary repairs in about an hour's time and the business proceeded as usual.
